South Luangwa National Park

South Luangwa is considered to be one of the greatest wildlife sanctuaries in the world. Founded in 1904 and seemingly untouched by modern man, visitors routinely encounter lions, elephants, and cape buffalo. There are over 400 species of birds, and unique species of zebra and antelope as well.

Life-changing Experience

Those who come to Northrise University and experience the beautiful scenery and meet the wonderful people often say "I left a part of my heart in Africa." Your life will be changed for good by hearing the stories directly from students and graduates personally experiencing transformation through Northrise University.
